

Spain

Edition 8

Whether you're heading for the Sierras or the costas, historic towns or cosmopolitan cities, this guide has a huge variety of places to choose from. There are simple Casas de Aldea (small traditional houses in remote rural settings), restored monasteries and palaces and modernist buildings with all the contemporary designer trimmings. Stride out on walking holidays in the National Parks, linger by the pool and make the most of some terrific regional and international cooking. Prepare to be tantalised:

- Moorish influences abound including a thrilling A Thousand and One Nights buzz at a seductive hotel in the heart of hot Jerez de la Frontera
- A family estate in Asturias sandwiched between the Picos de Europa and the Sierra del Sueve where mountain goats and Asturcón ponies are your nearest neighbours – a walkers' and nature lovers' paradise
- Tuck into the best of Catalan food: rock mussels, sardines and cockles on a beautiful terrace perched among pungent pines above a rocky cove at a groovy hostel on the Costa Brava

- Publication date: 2 April 2009
- Price: £14.99
- 8th edition
- ISBN: 978-1-906136-09-3

The Ethical Collection

Special places that are going that extra mile to source food locally and/or organically, reducing the dreaded carbon footprint or playing a particularly positive role in their community should be recognised for their efforts. Each deserving entry is clearly marked and there's more detail at the back of the book.

Facts and figures

Over 340 places, most of which are under €100 with half having rooms under €70 per night.

93 new entries and 348 entries in total including B&Bs, hotels and self-catering.

There is an increased focus on Balearic and the Canary Islands and more city entries too.

Every entry has been inspected and written about by us.
